LABOR SHORTAGE IS AFFECTING WOOL IN EUROPEAN MARKETS

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—With great strength, with further price advances at some points, have been shown for wool at American centers abroad the market has been rather erratic.

The trend of the English trade, which started unusually strong with higher prices forced, soon gave way to extreme dullness, with some holdovers reported as a result of the lack of demand.

This latter condition is by no means due to any lessening of demand for wools, but to the fact that the English woolen trade has been greatly handicapped by the inability of the mills to secure labor. The demands of the English government for more men have forced out of the mill working ranks most of the young men, and recently the mills in the Bradford district have been unable to operate up to their capacity.

The situation has become so acute that it has been proposed that the government lower the age for leaving school from 14 to 13 years. As the woolen mills of the Bradford district are operated mainly with young men and girls, the lowering of the school-leaving age would be a material aid to the mills.

A Bradford correspondent of the Boston Christian Science Monitor says:

"During the first half of the Liverpool East India wool auctions there were offered 25,700 bales, of which 2300 bales remain unsold. Though competition was good at the outset, it became erratic as the sales progressed and prices developed some irregularity. Compared with February-March rates, Vicnere and Joria 1st whitewash 7 1/2 to 10 per cent lower, Kandahar inferior white 10 per cent lower, Jesulmere and Marwar white steady best yellow 7 1/2 to 10 per cent lower, medium yellow 10 to 15 per cent lower, black 5 per cent lower, grays 5 per cent dearer, and signed steady. The withdrawals consisted chiefly of best white Joria and Vicnere and sandy parcels. Exports are still prohibited.

"Merino tops on the Bradford market have reached the new record quotation of 4s for 64's but users are not prepared to pay the price except when it is a case of absolute necessity, and business is again slow. At the same time topmakers are firm believers in a scarcity of merino wool before the new clip arrives, and this, together with the large orders already booked and the prospect of a further diminution of output, keeps them very firm. Apart from the possibility of large losses at sea, the general opinion now is that the supply of crossbreds, reinforced by the forthcoming English clip, should just about suffice, if the present policy of restricted exports is maintained and prices remain stationary."

40 TO 50 LOADS OF MEXICAN CATTLE DUE

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—From 40 to 50 loads of Mexican cattle fed in California are expected in the local market at the start of the coming week. This would be a record breaking supply from that section and indicates that feed conditions in the south are not only serious but that the Portland market continues the best on the coast.

This huge offering is expected to have an influence upon the North Portland trade and expectations are for lower prices. In the meantime, the market is considered fairly steady around former prices.

Hog Market Is Lower.
With a very liberal run of swine in the yards overnight, the market for hogs at North Portland ruled weak and at least a dime lower than previous sales. During the morning hours were not offering above $4.25 for tops, but receivers were holding off for better figures. The deadlock caused a very slow trade.

General hog market range:
Choice light weights $4.20@4.25
Good light weights 3.10@3.15
Medium weights 2.00@2.05
Rough and heavy 1.50@1.50

Mutton Run Is Better.
Market for mutton was very firm during the day. While there was a heavy run during the day, the trade was the best of recent days. Although some stock was sold around $9 for lambs, leaders of the trade assert that real tops should be quoted at $9.25, which was obtained for one lot during the previous 24 hours.

General horn mutton and lamb range:
Select spring lambs $9.50@9.25
Best yearlings 7.50@7.75
Good to common wethers. 6.70@7.00
Best ewes 5.00
Good to common ewes 5.00@5.50

MILLERS SCARED OVER LACK OF BLUESTEM

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9.—Here and there some buying of milling wheat is reported at interior points, but the general trade remains sluggish throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Owing to the very short acreage in bluestem this season, some of the mills are getting scared and are taking hold of the 1915 crop.

At Chicago the market was erratic, being strong and weak by turns during the day.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool that the wheat market was heavy, with continued large arrivals and scarcity of storage. Demand quiet and pressure of Manitoba. Cargo market easy. Manitobas neglected. Millers' supplies large and attempts to resell Manitobas are ineffectual.

Argentine freights very firm, and late offers dealer. Argentine estimated shipments, wheat, 2,000,000 bushels; corn, 1,700,000 bushels.

Supplies are very large in exporting countries, and importers' stocks are increasing rapidly. Buyers are unwilling to purchase freely at present prices. Argentine freights are inflated and it is believed that these will be adjusted accordingly as the demand improves.

Hay—Buying price: Willamette valley timothy, fancy, $20; eastern Oregon-Idaho fancy timothy, $21@22.
